

DEPARTMENT OF BANKING & INSURANCE(B.B.I.)2019-2020

India has been traditionally Cash Based Economy with limited penetration of formal banking and other financial services. But now India is witnessing a transformation of financial sector with new Payments Banks being established for achieving the dream of a fully banked country.

RBI, commercial banks, GOI and other stakeholders have undertaken a number of initiatives recently to promote Financial Inclusion. Payment Banks are a good way of reaching the masses for even the smallest payment at odd hours. It can effectively cater the needs of unbanked area population with easy access through M-banking.

Banking sector reforms in India constituted a paradigm shift during post economic liberalization period wherein almost all commercial banks strained to use modern methods and expanding of their business by achieving cost effectiveness in the intense competition.
